

Melody Johnson is the Manager of Training for Emory University. She has been in leadership development for over twenty years, across multiple industries. She specializes in creating behavioral change through self-awareness. She is a certified facilitator of award winning courses such as Crucial Conversations, The Birkman Method, and The 7 Habits of Highly Effective People.