

Christopher Scott Ward, Ph.D., is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Integrative Physiology at Baylor College of Medicine and serves as the Director of the Mouse Metabolism and Phenotyping Core. The core aims to provide resources for the characterization of metabolism, organ systems, and intact animal physiology. Dr. Ward's current research interests include neuronal control of breathing and physiology and includes several projects aimed at improving assay methods and analysis tools available in the field.